Time for Spring Cleaning
Help give London a makeover in 20 minutes

Mayor Anne Marie DeCicco-Best is calling on corporate London to join the 2nd Annual city-wide "20 minute London makeover" taking place this Friday at 2 p.m.

After a long winter of snow, slush and debris - our beautiful city needs freshening up. The goal of the "20 minute London makeover" is to rid London's business community of unsightly garbage and graffiti. City staff will be out at 2 p.m. at various locations throughout the city and need your help with spring cleaning!

"We're encouraging our many corporate friends to get involved by enabling staff teams to spend a little time outdoors sprucing up their various workplaces, as part of the 2nd annual makeover," says Mayor DeCicco-Best. "Ensuring our community is fresh and clean is everyone's responsibility and this event is a perfect opportunity to work together to get the job done."

The "20 minute London makeover' is brought to you by London Clean & Green, a partnership of more than 40 businesses and community groups dedicated to improving our city's environment by cleaning up public spaces. Keeping the Forest City clean contributes to community vitality and a healthy natural environment for all Londoners. We can all do our part!

Also, remember to get involved at home with the 12th Annual London Clean & Green community clean up taking place this year on April 21 between 9 a.m. and noon.
